

Denmark-Croatian optical cable manufacturer

Article Overview

NKT (Denmark) and ELKA (Croatia) are leading cable manufacturers in their respective countries, with expertise in high-end and industrial cable solutions.

Danish Manufacturers

NKT is a prominent Danish company specializing in high-end cables, including fiber optic solutions, cable accessories, and full-service cable solutions for energy and industrial sectors. They have extensive experience in medium and high voltage cables and provide comprehensive services, including installation and maintenance, making them a key player in European cable manufacturing (NKT) . Roblon is another Danish manufacturer with a strong focus on fiber-based products for industrial applications. They offer customized fiber solutions, including high-performance cable fibers and machinery for fiber optic production, suitable for onshore and offshore energy projects (Roblon) . FiberMAN and Fibertech also operate in Denmark, providing fiber optic installation, splicing, and project management services, supporting telecom and data center infrastructure (FiberMAN) .

Croatian Manufacturer

ELKA is a leading Croatian cable manufacturer with over 98 years of experience. They produce electric and fiber optic cables for industrial, energy, telecommunications, and transport sectors. ELKA emphasizes quality, technological innovation, and a broad product range, making them a key regional supplier in Croatia (ELKA)
