

Original Manufacturer of Communication Towers

Article Overview

Leading original manufacturers of communication towers include XY Tower, XH Tower, Comba Telecom, and China Tower Corporation, all providing global OEM/ODM services and high-quality steel structures.

Key Original Manufacturers

XY Tower – Based in China, XY Tower specializes in galvanized steel communication towers for telecom, broadcast, and smart grid applications. The company offers customized lattice and monopole towers, designed to withstand extreme weather, seismic zones, and high wind speeds. XY Tower provides end-to-end OEM and ODM services, including design, manufacturing, and logistics, exporting to over 30 countries . XH Tower Co., Ltd. – Located in Qingdao, Shandong, China, XH Tower manufactures hot-dip galvanized steel power poles, transmission towers, and telecommunication structures. Their facilities feature advanced CNC cutting, welding, and galvanizing lines, enabling high-strength, durable towers for global markets. XH Tower also offers customized engineering, OEM/ODM services, and installation support for utilities and telecom operators . Comba Telecom – Headquartered in Hong Kong, Comba Telecom produces wireless communication systems, including antennas, base station subsystems, and towers. With R&D and manufacturing bases in China and the USA, Comba Telecom provides full-service solutions for 4G and 5G networks, supporting global telecom operators . China Tower Corporation – As the largest tower company by site count, China Tower Corporation operates primarily in mainland China, providing shared telecom infrastructure for mobile operators. They...
